

Filtration Products

From filter housings and filter elements, to custom filtration systems, Harvard® has the expertise and capabilities to meet your filter needs with our wide variety of filtration products. Our filtration systems remove water and contaminants and increase the efficiency and service life of your oil and its components.

Having proper filtration in your equipment will extend the life of your machine and its overall efficiency, saving you time and money. Explore our filtration products below for more information on our product offerings and how they can meet your needs.

800-834-6219

Filter Housings

Harvard® manufactures lube and hydraulic filter housings in a variety of dimensions, flow rates and capacities.

Read more >

Filter Elements

Dry up an ocean of liquid waste through innovative Constant Contamination Control filters and filtration systems.

Read more >

Portable Filtration Systems

Removes water and contaminants to a single micron.

Read more >

Custom Filtration Systems

Filtration systems built to meet your specific needs.

Read more >

Stationary Filtration Systems

These systems are dedicated to a specific machine to maintain the lowest contamination levels while operating.

Read more >

Portable Coolant Systems

Removes water and contaminants to a single micron. Increases coolant and tool life and decreases hazardous waste disposal.

Read more >

